JUDY LOWE'S DEBUT BOOK, The Little White Light, SHINES.

Boulder, CO, November 19, 2013 – Judy Lowe's first book, The Little White Light, shares inspiration and comfort as it tells the story of Penny, a girl who finds both in a special light she discovers that appears when she is in need of love and reassurance. Penny's story touches a deep place in both children and adults and is brought to life in the accompanying color illustrations. The Little White Light becomes a memorable experience with each reading.

When Judy Lowe's husband, Sam, passed away several years ago, a little white light appeared in her life. Its origin a mystery, it continues to appear to her each day and provided the inspiration for her story. It is Judy's hope that children of all ages, and adults as well, will discover their very own little white light and be inspired by it.

Judy Lowe is a retired part-time teacher in the Dallas Independent School District. She holds a Bachelor's Degree in Music Education, a Master's Degree in Elementary Education and a Certificate in Gifted and Talented Education. This is her first book.

"This is a sweet little story that is useful to help children explain things they may experience but do not understand. I recommend this book for any child, but especially children who have been through some type of stressful situation or traumatic event." — Tracey D.

"This story reminds me that those we love are always with us in spirit. This book is definitely on my list as a top gift for all the kids in my life as well as a gesture of hope and remembrance to anyone I know who loses a loved one, whether it be family, friend, or even a beloved pet!"
— Leigh
